The environment plays an integral role in maintaining the balance of the ecosystem we live in. Environment day is celebrated worldwide on 5th June to create awareness among people about protecting the environment. The first-ever Environment Day was held in 1973.

The first celebration, under the slogan "Only One Earth" took place in 1973. In the following years, WED has developed as a platform to raise awareness on the problems facing our environment such as air pollution, plastic pollution, illegal wildlife trade, sustainable consumption, sea-level increase, and food security, among others. Furthermore, WED helps drive change in consumption patterns and in national and international environmental policy.

Environment Day acts as a platform that helps create awareness about various issues that have adverse effects on the environment, like global warming, overpopulation, pollution, and crime against wildlife.

Most people don't understand the importance of the environment and end up damaging it with their various activities. If we continue to degrade the environment, in the long run, the adverse effects will affect human beings too. So, to protect the environment, one should focus on sustainability.
